

Who is Tristate Timing?

Tristate Timing is comprised of several individuals that have come together given their involvement in timing & promoting events. Some are race directors, others promoters however all are "race timers" and all are athletes. We understand the importance of your time. We will be the last ones to waste it!!!

What are Tristate's services?

Tristate Timing offers an easy to use Radio Frequency Identification-based "RFID" timing solution. The IPICO Sports tag is easy to use and extremely accurate. The setup of the solution is nearly foolproof and only takes a few minutes. RMMR markets the timing tags to sponsors interested in partnering with such a rock solid scoring system.

Is Tristate Expensive?

Events with up to 300 participants (and support chip recovery) cost $750 ($1.50 per participant thereafter) Events that support a disposable chip cost $1050 ($2.00 pp thereafter). Our "chip" sponsors subsidize much of the physical costs allowing Tristate to keep the costs down whereby affording non-profits and benefits the greatest bottom line.

Who are Tristate's Partners

We try and partner with any and every athletic or non-profit organization that wants to time an event, function or practice accurately. We work very closing with many of the local area running clubs to test our enhancements. You can also see us on the "road" at almost every RMMR Event Promotion's production.

Results

Tristate Timing feels that the best place to post results is on a site that is continually identified in the top internet search engines. This is a proven means of attracting participants. Its for this reason alone that Tristate does not place its results on its website. We conserve this space to better explain our products and services. You can find (y)our results on bestrace.com, coolrunning.com and runsignup.com within 24-48 hours of the event's completion.

As we constantly strive to improve our service offering(s) please let us know if there is a site we should considering in posting (y)our event results. Suggestions can be sent to results@tristatetiming.com
